

Environmentally Sensitive Areas

Environmental Protection Act 1986

Purpose

This fact sheet provides information on the declaration of environmentally sensitive areas (ESAs), how to view the location of ESAs and how ESAs affect when a clearing permit is required.

Introduction

The Environmental Protection Act 1986 (EP Act) makes it an offence to clear native vegetation unless the clearing is done in accordance with a clearing permit, or an exemption applies. These laws apply to private and public lands throughout Western Australia.

Exemptions for clearing that is a requirement of a written law, or authorised under certain statutory processes are contained in Schedule 6 of the EP Act. These exemptions do apply in ESAs.

Exemptions for low impact routine land management practices are prescribed in the Environmental Protection (Clearing of Native Vegetation) Regulations 2004. These exemptions do not apply in ESAs and a clearing permit is required.

Declaration of environmentally sensitive areas

Under section 51B of the EP Act the Minister for Environment may declare by notice either a specified area of the State or a class of areas of the State to be an ESA.

ESAs are declared in the Environmental Protection (Environmentally Sensitive Areas) Notice 2005, which was gazetted on 8 April 2005.

Declared environmentally sensitive areas

The following areas are declared to be ESAs:

- a declared World Heritage property as defined in section 13 of the Environment Protection and Biodiversity Conservation Act 1999 of the Commonwealth;
- an area that is included on the Register of the National Estate, because of its natural heritage value, under the Australian Heritage Council Act 2003 of the Commonwealth;
- a defined wetland and the area within 50 metres of the wetland. Defined wetlands include Ramsar wetlands, conservation category wetlands and nationally important wetlands;
- the area covered by vegetation within 50 metres of rare flora, to the extent to which the vegetation is continuous with the vegetation in which the rare flora is located;
- the area covered by a threatened ecological community;
- a Bush Forever site listed in "Bush Forever" Volumes 1 and 2 (2000), published by the Western Australia Planning Commission, except to the extent to which the site is approved to be developed by the Western Australia Planning Commission;

- the areas covered by the Environmental Protection (Western Swamp Tortoise Habitat) Policy 2002;
